World Wide Listening Party & Book Launch Event

The amount of screen time kids and parents endure on a daily basis has gone up significantly in recent years. Curating content that is healthy for the minds, hearts & imaginations of your kids can be a full-time job in itself.

Majik Kids is here to make that experience fun and easy. This new Canadian publishing and production company is creating unique & inspiring audio stories, illustrated books & meditations that activate imagination, courage and confidence in kids... without the need to look at a screen.

Supported by over a decade of experience in producing entertainment-based educational content, meditations, music & more through their subsidiary company, MajikMedia.com, Majik Kids aims to produce magical stories for your magical kids. Majik Kids' founder, father and community builder by trade, Bradley T. Morris hopes to build deeper bonds of connection between individuals, families and classrooms by bringing them together in meaningful and playful ways that support their imagination, curiosity, growth and development. "Stories have brought my son, Sauryn and I together in such deep and meaningful ways. We hope Majik Kids can do the same for other families."

Beginning in January 2022, Majik Kids will be releasing new story bundles every month, as well as kids meditations, games, activity & colouring books, music & more.

"The audio stories are like movies for my ears."

About Majik Kids:

Majik Kids is a Canadian publishing & production company based on Salt Spring Island, BC. The Majik Kids team has grown to nearly two dozen mostly local artists, including experienced writers, illustrators, designers, voice-over actors, musicians, producers and a publishing manager. Together, they aim to bring custom soundscapes, immersive audio stories & beautifully illustrated books to their young audiences. Majik Kids is a Fair Trade Publishing company; the first of its kind. Meaning, they value the artists they work with, paying them 2-3x more than traditional publishing. Find out what all the hype is about. Join the party at 9am on December 11th, 2021 for their Worldwide Listening Party at www.MajikKids.com/Party Fun for the whole family guaranteed!
